Attempted to Kill Himself.

Dwight A. Niles, 23, shot and killed his wife, Louisa M. Niles, 26, Saturday night at 7 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Am Lamb, about a half mile from Newport Centre. The couple were married about a year ago but had not been living together of late. Niles, who was formerly a brakeman for the Central Vermont railway company, was injured and came to his home in Newport to recuperate. He had been working recently for Ernatus Buck of the Newport creamery. Mrs. Niles worked at R. H. Buck's, and when Niles called there Saturday she refused to see him. Later Mrs. Niles boarded a train for Newport Centre with the intention of spending Sunday at the home of her parents, as was her custom. Niles went to Newport Centre by the same train but did not discover his wife until she alighted at the station. He then followed her to the house and entreated her to live with him. As Mrs. Niles turned to enter the gateway he pulled out a revolver and fired one shot. The builet struck Mrs. Niles near the right ear, passed through the based sold led for the left eye. Mrs. one shot. The bullet struck Mrs. Niles near the right ear, passed through the head and lodged near the left eye. Mrs. Niles was picked up by her parents and carried into the house. She died in about five minutes. Niles ran away, evidently with the intention of escaping across the Canadian border. Steriff Miles was notified and he and deputies and citizens were soon in pursuit. Both of the young prople were well known in Newport and Newport Centre. Niles was a member of Frontier todge of Odd Fellows and of Company L. V. N. G.

Niles was arrested Monday in the caboose of a freight train in Richford. The train was on the Canadian Pacific rallroad and was bound to Montreal. He made no resistance and was placed in the ockup. Shortly afterward he attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a jackknife. The wound is not considered serious. He boarded the train two or three miles from Newport while it was pulling up a steep grade. He was in an exhausted condition and the trainmen allowed him to go to sleep in the caboose, while they telegraphed to Belyford to lowed him to go to sleep in the caboose, while they telegraphed to Richford to have officers in waiting for bim. Niles gave up a revolver when he was searched, but the knife with which he slashed himself was not found when he was arrested. He was brought back to Newport, where he is now held awaiting a

After pleading guilty to a charge of manslaughter, William Hunt, a prospermanslaughter, William Hunt, a prosper-ous farmer of Essex, was sentenced by Judge A. A. Hall in the Chittenden county court Monday to not more than two years nor less than 18 months at hard labor in the state prison at Windsor. Hunt was charged with causing the death of John Early, an aged man, at Essex Junction, early in January. Hunt was intoxicated at the time, and was driving a two-horse sled loaded with grist through the main sled loaded with grist through the main street of Essex Junction. His horses ran down Mr. Early, who was 75 years old, and the aged man was caught under the sled runner and dragged for more than 400 yards. He was finally freed from the sled, but Hunt kept on without paying any attention to the old man's cries. Early was carried into a drug store, where he died within half an hour. An examination showed that he had sustained more than 39 bone fractures. In addition to serving a sentence in prison Hunt is ordered to nay the costs of his proposition. dered to pay the costs of his prosecution or stand committed until such order is complied with.

Love Affair Caused Tragedy in Fair

Albert F. Palmer 20, shot and killed himself Saturday night in front of his home on Academy street in Fair Haven. The tragedy followed a quarrel between Paimer and Miss Nora Bentford, 23, said to have been due to the fact that her family favored the attentions of Elmer Bourne, 28, a carpenter, formerly of Fair Haven, but now of North Adams, Mass, who visited at his old home last week and while there called on Miss Bentford. Palmer met the young woman after she had called on a friend and was accompanying her home, when he stopped in front of the house where he lived and drew a 32 calibre revolver, threatening to take his life. Miss Bentford shouted and Palmer's brother, William, who rush-ed from the house, attempted to grapple Palmer. Albert cluded his brother, ran to the middle of the street with William in pursuit, and turning quickly shot him-self through the head. He was picked up unconscious and carried into the house. where he died an hour later. Palmer in-jured his spine by a fall four months ago and it is thought that since then his mind had been affected. He had been despondent and his mind appeared to wander at times. Earlier in the even-ing he had threatened to kill himself.

was appropriated to be given the towns if they would vote an equal amount, has been very satisfactory. There was in the minds of some a doubt as to the towns waking up to their privilege: 171 towns have taken advantage of the act, and, under it, have raised, in round numbers, $45,000. Franklin county is the banner county so far reported, every town having voted the special sum. This gives the state $100,000 worth of permanent highways in addition to the permanent highways in addition to the regular 5 per cent. required by a pre-vious law, which will raise another $100,000. Col. Herbert S. Foster, U. S. A., (re tired), has returned with his wife and children to Calais, his native town, to make his permanent home there. Col. Foster graduated from the United States military academy in West Point in 1872 and has had a long and distinguished career in the army. In 1891, while captain in the 20th infantry, he served as professor of military science and tactics in the University of Vermont, and was commander of the Vermont dist tics in the University of Vermont, and was commander of the Vermont division of the Sons of Veterans. In the war with Spain he was engaged in the Cuban campaign and was present at the battle of El Caney and the operations before Santiago. He went to the Philippines with the Twentieth infantry and saw hard service. Gen. Loyd Wheaton commended him in an official report for "very great gallantry in the storming of Pasig and in the combat at Cainta." Great credit is due him for his untiring and efficient efforts in the organization of the Vermont Commandery, Military Order of the Loyal Ledery, Military Order of the Loyal Le-gion, with headquarters in Burlington. A fitting recognition of Col.
